TING'S PROPOSALS ACCEPTED.

HOWIE TO BE SHOT.
CHEFOO, February 16th.

The proposals of Admiral Ting to surrender Wei-hai-wel were accepted by the Japanese, except that Howie, the American who was arrested on board the French mail liner Sydney some months ago on suspicion, and released on parole, is to be shot. There were only six Europeans left on Liukungtao when it was captured.

LATEST ABOUT HOWIE.

CHEFOO, February 17th.

The Japanese occupied Liukungtao on Friday. The garrison and foreigners were allowed to depart, with their belongings, unharmed, but Mr. Howie was retained for trial. The foreigners went on board H.M.S. Severn, and are expected here. The Chenyuen and six gun-boats were taken by the Japanese, who expect also to float the Tzengyuen.

and is destined for different ports in the Orient.

LI HUNG-CHANG'S MISSION.

LI HUNG-CHANG is to proceed to Japan at once, via Port Arthur, where a steamer from Shanghai is to meet him.

YOKOHAMA, February 17th.
In a despatch, dated Wei-hai-wel the 13th instant, but which was delayed in transmission, Admiral Li states that when on the previous day accepting Admiral Ting's proposal for surrender he desired the messenger to open the military port and return in the morning to arrange details. The officer returned early on the 13th and stated that on the previous night Admiral Ting and Captains Liu and Chang had committed suicide, adding that for affairs relating to the surrender "Admiral" McClure was at Admiral Li's disposal. The latter then sent the former a letter requesting him to arrange the matter.

THE JAPANESE OCCUPY NINGHAU.

YOKOHAMA, February 17th.
A telegram from Port Arthur states that a Japanese cavalry detachment occupied Ninghai on the morning of the 16th instant, without resistance. The natives there stated that on the 16th inst. the Chinese forces at Hunchuan separated into two bodies, the larger fleeing towards Fushan and the smaller towards Yantai. The inhabitants of Ninghai were submissive and welcomed the Japanese on their arrival.

THE TERMS OF SURRENDER.

YOKOHAMA, February 17th.

Marshal Oyama, on the afternoon of the 17th, reports that the Chinese proposal tendered to the Japanese flagship Matsushima for the surrender of the warships, forts, and armaments provided that the Chinese soldiers and sailors and the foreigners in the Chinese service should be liberated under a guarantee to be obtained from the Admiral of a neutral power. The conditions were complied with, except as regards the guarantee clause, and the agreement was concluded. Marshal Oyama confirms the news of the suicide of the Chinese Admiral, Commodore, and General, leaving letters and a request addressed to the Japanese flagship. The garrison of Liukungtao had been conducted beyond the Hsiao and set at liberty. It was proposed to treat the sailors in the same way and to take the foreigners by ship to some place and there liberate them.

ANOTHER CHINESE REPULSE.

YOKOHAMA, February 17th.
In a despatch, dated Helsing, 16th inst., General Nodzu reports that on that date the Chinese forces under Generals Hui, Chang, and Yih coming by the route from Tientsin, Wangchowang and Yinkow attacked the Japanese position at Helsing, but were repulsed with heavy losses, the Japanese casualties being trifling.

(Special to N. C. Daily News.)

LI'S FUTURE.

TIENTSIN, February 17th.
There seems to be a growing belief amongst native officials here that when Viceroy Li Wen-shao there will be but little chance of the former returning to his old post at Tientsin again. The belief is that after the conclusion of his mission to the Japanese, no matter how it turns out, Viceroy Li will be kept permanently at Peking by the Emperor.

THE SUICIDES CONFIRMED.

TOKIO, February 17th.
Wei-hai-wel capitulated on the 15th, and Admiral Ting, Commodore Liu and General Chang committed suicide that night. "Admiral" Mc-Clure is arranging the terms of surrender.

A HIT AT THE LI PARTY.

PEKING, February 17th.
The Emperor has decided to call Viceroy Li Hung-chang, of the Two Kuanhs, up to Peking, and the Grand Council deliberated to-day as to who should be his successor at Canton. It is likely that a Manchur will be chosen, as the Emperor has been showing a marked tendency towards putting as many Manchus as he can at the head of the provincial governments. As soon as Li Hung-chang vacates his post at Canton he will probably be told to retire to his home and be excused from coming to Peking.

SPRINGS' CHARGES.

A Censor has memorialized the Throne on behalf of General Tang Jen-tien, (Provincial Commander-in-Chief of Kiangnan), who was called up last October from the South to take command of the Chinese army covering Mukden, and has denounced Viceroy Li for having refused to deliver 10,000 taels to the Japanese. Tang and Hsuan keris, which were specially bought for these troops and placed in the Peking Ordnance godown at Tientsin. The consequence is that a large brigade is lying idle and destitute of arms and ammunition at Shanhaikuan, when they are urgently needed to reinforce the armies in Manchuria. This memorial is to be a test case; if the Emperor takes the matter up, there will be many more similar ones. The onset of China's humiliation is to be placed on one man's shoulders alone—Li Hung-chang.

A NEW TAOTAI FOR NEWCHWANG.

PEKING, February 18th.
Ting Yung, a Manchur, has been appointed to succeed the present Taotai at Yingchow (Port of Newchwang) with judicial powers of a Provincial Judge.

SECRET SOCIETIES ON THE

WAR-PATH.
PEKING, February 18th.

The doings of a secret society called the Taich, professing total abstinence from wine, spirits and tobacco, possessing a membership of nearly 10,000 in Chihli province and Peking, have been exposed by certain members of the society, by which a serious outbreak in the capital may possibly be averted. Government is trying to keep matters secret at present.

A NEW GENERAL.

TIENTSIN, February 18th.
The Throne has telegraphed for General Ho Ming-ling of Kanchow, Kiangsi, to join Liu Kun-yi's army in Manchuria as General in command of the vanguard. General Ho is considered one of the bravest of the Hunan Generals and is very popular amongst the soldiery of the Siang Army Corps.

ARRIVAL AT PEKING OF THE LEGA-

TION GUARDS.
TROUBLE ANTICIPATED.

PEKING, February 18th.
The foreign Marines are now arriving at the Legations, there being three hundred of them altogether. Unless caution is exercised, there is danger of suspicion and friction.

MR. DETRING "IN THE SWIM."

TIENTSIN, February 18th.
Viceroy Li will not stay very long at the capital, as he is expected back at Tientsin by the 16th instant. Mr. G. Detring will act as Chief Secretary to the proposed Peace Mission.

THE PORT ARTHUR GENERALS.

LI HUNG-CHANG will not take any more excuses from Li Hung-chang about his inability to arrest Generals Huang Sili, Wei Ju-cheng and Tiao Hui-yi of Port Arthur, who disappeared upon the fall of the place. Another decree was sent down yesterday prematurely ordering the arrest of the above Generals within a specified time.
In the meanwhile the properties of these men in their native provinces are to be confiscated to the Government.

(Special to Shanghai Mercury.)

ARRIVAL OF CHINESE SOLDIERS AND

FOREIGNERS AT CHEFOO.
CHEFOO, February 18th.

Japanese arrived yesterday with the Chinese troops from Liukungtao. All the foreigners except Mr. Howie, have arrived. The steamer Kangsho also brought the bodies of Admiral Ting, Commodore Liu, and General Yang and Chang. The Japanese saluted the Kangsho on leaving, and the Japanese officer paid a touching farewell to Admiral Ting's body, which greatly impressed the Chinese. The Japanese have not come to Chefoo.

THE KOREA-JAPAN CABLE INTER-RUPTED.

NAGASAKI, February 18th.

The cable between Korea and Japan has been interrupted since the night of the 17th inst.

LI TO BE A SCAPEGOAT.

PEKING, February 18th.
It is the general opinion of high officials that Li Hung-chang's honors were reported to enable him to be acceptable as Envoy Extraordinary to Japan, as a deposed official could not with propriety be acceptable. It is generally expected that Li will be made a scapegoat as soon as his post of Envoy Extraordinary is at an end, whether he is successful or not in making terms of peace.

MR. PETHICK LEAVES PEKING TO

MEET LI HUNG-CHANG.
PEKING, February 20th.

Mr. W. N. Pethick, formerly U.S. Vice-Consul at Tientsin, has left Peking to meet Viceroy Li Hung-chang to consult with him about matters of importance.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER.

H.I.M. the Emperor of China has asked for full explanations of China's defects as well as information in regard to war expenses.

(Special to N. C. Daily News.)

LI HUNG-CHANG OFF.

TIENTSIN, February 19th.

In consequence of premature orders from the Emperor and the allowance of a limited time for the Viceroy Li to appear at Peking, His Excellency has been compelled to change his time of departure from Tientsin. The seals of office were handed over to the new Viceroy, Wang Wen-shao, this morning and the departure for the capital has been announced for this afternoon. A very small retinue of only a dozen persons accompany Li to Peking.

THE CAPITULATION OF WEI-HAI-WEI.

TIENTSIN, 19th February.

Authentic official news from Chefoo states that Wei-hai-wel capitulated on the 15th with honors of war. The torpedo-boats were destroyed, the sailors mutilated, and the soldiers of Liukungtao refused to fight. The officers of the fleet behaved well. The Tzeng-yuen, Lai-yuen, Ching-yuen, and Wei-yuen were sunk, and Admiral Ting and General Chang committed suicide.

A NEW MOVE.

HONGKONG, 19th February.

Six Japanese men-of-war have been sighted off the Pescadores and one off Breaker Point.
It is possible, of course, that Japanese war vessels may have been sighted near the Pescadores, and (in their object) in cruising in the Formosa Channel is probably the interception of foreign steamers carrying munitions of war consigned to the Chinese.—F.D., H.K.T.]

The following is a copy of an Imperial decree published in the Shanghai Shen-shen-pao—Li Hung-chang has memorialized Us to bestow posthumous honors upon Brigadier General Tao, who was killed when Wei-hai-wel was taken by the Japanese. He reports that the deceased General was a faithful and modest man whom he and Wei-hai-wel had recommended; he held the fort at Wei-hai-wel as long as was possible with an insufficient force, and the fall of the place was due to no fault of his; he fell bravely fighting the enemy and protecting his retreating soldiers, proving his reliability to the last. Now let the proper Board consult as to the honors to be bestowed on his memory.

LI HUNG-CHANG, older brother of the Viceroy of Chihli, will shortly be called and a Manchur the sweet by and by.
